

OHIO BEEF CATTLE FEEDING SCHOOL

This years Cattle Feeding School will focus on feeding alternative feeds and cost of production for fed cattle in 2025.

What is the outlook for feeding beef cattle in this cattle cycle? Garth Ruff, Beef Cattle Field Specialist will cover how the beef supply looks for the coming year and what goals with regards to quality has the industry set for itself on the long term. Risk management and budgets will be part of the discussion.

The OSU Farm business analysis team will be on hand to discuss benchmarking and long term farm financial planning.

To wrap up each of the programs, Allen Gahler, OSU Extension Sandusky Co. and Jason Hartschuh Dairy Management and Precision Livestock Field Specialist will cover alternative feeds, how nitrogen applied to corn converts to protein in feed, and a comparison of different protein sources for feedlot cattle.

KNOX COUNTY

February 18, 2025 6:00 - 8:00 P.M.

Ramser 4-H Activity Center
700 Perimeter Drive
Mount Vernon, OH 43050

Cost: Free. Refreshments Provided

CONTACT: For questions, contact

Knox Co. – Sabrina Schirtzinger 740-397-0401

REGISTRATION | OHIO BEEF CATTLE NUTRITION AND MANAGEMENT SCHOOL

Name: _____

Address: _____

City: _____

State/Zip: _____

Phone: _____

Additional Attendees: _____

Email: _____

Send completed forms to:

Ohio State University Extension
Knox County
P.O. Box 1268
Mount Vernon OH
43050