

Backyard Food Production Program

The Carroll and Harrison Soil and Water Conservation Districts, and NRCS along with OSU Extension will be offering a series of programs on Backyard Food Production for 2015.

This is a great program for Gardeners of all skill levels.

Topics:

- How to Plan Your Garden Layout
- Garden Types: Lasagna Gardens, Vertical Gardens, Raised Beds, Container Gardens
- Companion Planting: Carrots love Tomatoes
- Backyard Poultry: How to Start a Backyard Flock
- How Do I Test My Garden Soil?

Thursday
April 9th
6:00PM

LOCATION:
USDA Service Center
104 Firehouse Lane,
Hopedale

Due to the success of this program last year, we have expanded to include many new topics as well as additional "hand's on" activities. This program encourages the utilization of your backyard or unused green space for food production while creating wildlife habitat and supporting the conservation of our natural resources.

Please call to register for all workshops so that we may have handouts available for all attendees.

You may call the Carroll SWCD at 330-627-9852 or the Extension office at 330-627-4310.

(You may call the day of the workshop to register)

Coming up:

May 14th

Let's Build Rain Barrels! We will order supplies for you to build a barrel! Call the office to get on the list.
